"Enjoy the Ride"

I was privileged this past weekend to listen to a speaker whose talk was entitled "Enjoy the Ride". I'd like to share some of what he said.

He reminded us that we should have a passion for what we do and never lose it. In fact, he suggested that we renew it every day. Love what you do and remind yourself daily why you love it. Looking back on my brief 8 month retirement a few years ago, I am reminded why I came back. I have a passion for what I do; helping people achieve their dreams. I am reminded virtually every day why I love what I do. Never lose your passion and let it shine through.

Steve Gilliland suggested that we cure our "Destination Disease". Live every moment fully. When you're with a loved one, be with them one hundred percent! Don't be thinking about your next meeting or task that you have to do. Live today fully. Enjoy tomorrow even more. Never focus on yesterday, it's gone. It's history. He told the story of how he would go on vacation—at 4am, wrap the kids (still asleep) in a blanket, put them in the car with the cooler filled with drinks and sandwiches. He'd then drive 15 hours to get to their destination. We should all enjoy the journey as much as we plan to enjoy the destination.

Lastly, he suggested that we focus on the important things in life. Decide what is important to you and focus on those things. Never lose your focus. For me, the most important thing in my life is my family. I am truly blessed with a loving family who support and love me. Without them, my life would have very little meaning. I encourage you to focus on your loved ones. Life has a nasty habit of changing, sometimes suddenly, and I would hate for any of us to find ourselves in the position of saying "If only I would have..."

Lets all be passionate about what we do, lose our "destination disease" and focus on those who are important in our lives.

Enjoy the ride and remember your loved ones on Valentine's Day!

Yours truly,

"I don't understand why Cupid was chosen to represent Valentine's Day. When I think about romance, the last thing on my mind is a short, chubby toddler coming at me with a weapon." ~Author Unknown

Homes In Need of New Owners

939 Boulderwood Rise

Immaculate Mike Nixon designed 3300sq ft home with 3 bedrooms + den. Located on a quiet cul de sac, this open plan, spacious home offers a great layout for families with an eat-in kitchen and large family room adjacent with cozy gas fireplace. Gleaming hardwood floors greet you in the ample-sized entry and carry through to the kitchen. Skylights and numerous windows bring the outside nature in. Superb separation of space with a games room/family room with bar in the lower level plus 700+ sq ft awaiting further development. All is set on private 1/2 acre lot with lots of room for the kids to play safely.
